Eric Vanderburg of JurInnov Presenting at the 2011 Information Security Summit

Manager of Information Systems and Security to Discuss "Creating a Culture of Information Security"

CLEVELAND, OHIO –October 24, 2011 – JurInnov Ltd. (www.jurinnov.com) is pleased to announce that Eric Vanderburg, Manager of Information Systems and Security, will be presenting on the topic of "Creating a Culture of Information Security" at the 2011 Information Security Summit.  Taking place October 27-28, 2011 at LaCentre in Westlake, Ohio, this sold out event features two days of talks, presentations and hands-on workshops with sessions on information security technology, business/management, compliance, law enforcement and legal issues (https://www.informationsecuritysummit.org/).  "I am pleased to speak at the Summit this year on such an important topic," stated Eric Vanderburg.  "Like a plant that grows in good soil or withers from lack of nutrients, security initiatives will succeed or fail depending on an organization's culture.   My goal at the Summit is to help others increase information security effectiveness through a better understanding of culture."

About Eric Vanderburg
